I am inspired by the beauty of everyday life and often “see” a painting in the faces on the street, at museums, or everyday places. Painting, for me, is a way to capture and express that beauty - whether it is a person, a beloved pet, or a treasured object. The way the light travels over and around objects is magical to me and I strive to elicit an emotional response in those who view my paintings.

I especially enjoy portraits of people and pets and commissions are accepted upon request.
