Painting in a direct manner with vivid colors and bold brushstrokes, the joy for me is in the creation. Beauty surrounds us, but we hurry and scurry and often don't pay attention to it. I seek to portray the beauty in everyday scenes - to encourage viewers to take a moment to appreciate the way light falls on flowers in a garden, the charm of an outdoor cafe, or the brilliant colors in a sunset. Color excites me, and I love to emphasize it.

My professional art career began in the late 1980's, and has taken me all over the US and to Central America and Europe. Galleries in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Pennsylvania, Spain and my native Texas have represented my work, and it has been exhibited nationally and internationally in Italy, France and Spain.
